

Wisconsin deserves more recognition

Oh Wisconsin, you house many things: the Green Bay Packers, frigid Winters, and amazing places like Door County.

Door County has a variety of different ways to keep you on your and my favorite activities are going on a bike ride on the Sunset Trail or going shopping, or going to the many restaurants they have such as Wilsons or my favorite restaurant, Wild Tomato Pizza.

One thing that makes Door County Unique is that you will find that most of the places are family owned. They all have their own way of operation and the restaurants have their own recipes. Wild Tomato is no different. Their pizza brings you to heaven, and to top it off, adding some parmesan cheese makes it 10 times better.

One of Wild Tomato's missions is to use all natural and local ingredients. Wisconsin is home to a lot of farmers and crops, so these ingredients are beneficial and help support these farmers. The use of natural ingredients really makes their pizza taste much more special, the fresh tomatoes they use for their pizza sauce, or freshly picked peppers on their Mediterranean pizza, or the fresh parmesan cheese to sprinkle on the pizza. Another one of their missions is to provide the best service to satisfy a customer.

One time me and my family went to Wild Tomato and had ordered 2 large pizzas but they accidentally made 1 large and 1 small so they quickly made another small pizza to compensate for the mistake, and they were super apologetic about the mistake.

Wild Tomato had two locations, one in Fish Creek and one in Sister Bay. Something special about the Sister Bay location is that it's right by the lake and so if you chose to have dinner there and you are sitting outside, then you get to watch a classic Door County sunset.

Over the summer of 2021 me and my family went to Wild Tomato and we had a really long wait but that was overshadowed as we came at the perfect time to watch the big red and orange ball slowly set over the calm Lake Michigan. Watching the sky go from shades of bright orange, to hot pinks and having a nice refreshing beverage made me feel at peace. That is what I think about when I think of Wisconsin and Door County.

Wisconsin has many beautiful places to visit and many famous restaurants, but Door County has it all. That is why I love Wisconsin.
